Hagerty Consulting Welcomes Amy Graczyk as the new Director, Head of Human Resources.

Evanston, IL – based Hagerty Consulting is a firm that specializes in helping the world recover from disaster and prepare for all kinds of events. The company has hired Amy Graczyk to help lead and support all aspects related to the Human Resources function of the firm. Amy brings experience in leading and advising organizations on employee engagement, change management, technology implementation, and various transformation initiatives as well as developing and delivering human capital strategies. Throughout her career, she has been instrumental in helping develop talent, building quality processes for effective employee engagement and serving as a strategic HR business partner.

Amy will provide leadership and direction for the HR department of the firm. Her background spans fifteen years with Kraft Foods, where she established her skills as an HR Business Partner and Organization Development professional. Over the course of her career she has supported several functions and led many training and performance management projects. After Kraft, she worked as an HR Leader for Transunion's IT & Analytics organization. She has been a consultant helping transform AbbVie after it spun off from Abbott Labs and was formerly the Director of Organization Effectiveness with the insurance brokerage firm of Arthur J Gallagher.

Graczyk earned a Master's of Business Administration from DePaul University and has a Bachelor of Arts degree in International Business from the University of Dayton.
