

CDBG-DR Program Management & Implementation

Turning Recovery Priorities Into Programs That Deliver

Community Development Block Grant – Disaster Recovery (CDBG-DR) funding gives communities an opportunity to rebuild stronger, but translating recovery priorities into compliant, effective programs can be complex.

Hagerty helps grantees move from planning through implementation, monitoring, and closeout—bringing together CDBG-DR expertise and practical recovery experience.

Recovery funding is only the beginning. Successful CDBG-DR programs turn community needs and recovery priorities into compliant, effective programs that deliver results.

From Strategy to Delivery

Hagerty's approach connects strategy with implementation, providing support at each stage of program delivery.

Assess & Design

Translate community needs and recovery priorities into actionable programs, policies, and implementation plans.

Launch & Deliver

Support the set-up and management of housing, infrastructure, mitigation, planning, and economic revitalization programs.

Manage & Monitor

Strengthen performance, compliance, reporting, procurement, and subrecipient management throughout implementation.

Conclude & Sustain

Prepare programs for monitoring and closeout while building systems and capabilities that support long-term resilience.

OUR FIRM

For more than two decades, Hagerty has helped state and local governments navigate complex disaster recovery and maximize federal funding. Our team combines deep CDBG-DR expertise with hands-on recovery experience to help communities design and implement programs that move recovery priorities forward.

OUR TEAM

Our team brings together former government officials and experienced CDBG-DR practitioners with expertise spanning action planning, program design and implementation, compliance, and grants management. This firsthand experience helps clients navigate complex requirements and move recovery programs forward.
